Colonel Frank Eberhart one of the best known hostelry proprietors in the United States is a born soldier and comes from a military family in Bavaria, Germany. When quite a youth he entered the imperial Army in 1868 serving through the several grades of private, corporal and sergeant. During the Franco-Prussian War he served with meritorious and distinguished gallantry and was wounded at the battle of Sedan. For this faithful service he was commissioned second Lieut. in the second Bavarian Cavalry. After the War he decided to resign his commission and came to America, settling in Baltimore where he was located in business for nearly fifteen years. Colonel Eberhart is a self made man and devotes his energies to the improvement of the hotel system in America. For several years he was the proprietor of the Bellevue Terrace Hotel at Los Angeles, California, and subsequently was induced to take his present house, the Eagle Hotel at Gettysburg. Nearly all the prominent military and naval officials, as well as the leading statesmen of the country have stopped at this place and the genial colonel has the personal acquaintance of many of these distinguished men.

During the recent encampment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania he endeared himself to the hearts of many of the members of Governor Stone's staff, to whom he extended many courtesies. As a mark of appreciation these same gentlemen who had occasion to attend the unveiling of the Slocum monument in September last decided to elect him an honorary member of their staff and a comrade, which is thoroughly appreciated by Colonel Eberhart.

WHILE the Journal has from time to time advocated the abolition of independent military bodies, it particularly referred to such who had no sincerity of purpose, other than their own peculiar social end and "milk white flag" standing.

The recent entry into the First Regiment of a body of young men from the northeastern section of Philadelphia, constituting Company "M," is commendable and should be a "pace setter" for companies of this kind throughout the State, who really seek a public and official military record. We feel quite sure that the several commanding officers would be glad to receive them, as did the commanding officer of the First Infantry.

While writing on this subject it might be well to state that one juvenile organization, not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the United States, has been quite a "feeder" for the National Guard, viz: the Boys Brigade. This is an organization that should be fostered and thoroughly appreciated, not only by every guardsman, but the State military authorities might do well to give them official encouragement as a future school for the Guard. The entire purpose of this corps is thoroughly American, their teachings being strictly in accord with United States Army regulations, and to-day we can name a number of high officials in our own State service who received their first teachings in this juvenile body.

General Bope, who is at the head of this noble cadet organization, is one of Pittsburgh's foremost and representative men, being associated with the Carnegie Company. He is untiring in his efforts to bring about the compact military and business system. It will, therefore, be seen that when young men of this class enter the Guard they are sure to make good soldiers.

THE inspections of the Second Infantry were commenced on Monday evening, March 2d, with Company "B" (Captain Leng). It was another demonstration of the present relaxation in the Guard. Desirable recruits are scarce and through the influences of the labor union many of the old men will not re-enlist. These conditions are being severely felt throughout the Division. The company commanders, from whom so much is expected, are powerless to cope with this situation and the higher authorities should extend to the captains every leniency possible. Captain Leng is a tried and faithful officer and has always maintained a company of high standard. In this case his company paraded a total of twenty-nine men and three officers. The men, however, looked neat and executed the several movements fairly well, but it was evident that the officers had lost heart in the work owing to the great number of absentees. Captain Leng has requested an investigation through his immediate Battalion Commander, Major Williams.

IT is stated that the proposed permanent camp site at Gettysburg has been abandoned, for the reason that a lot of land "sharks" spoiled the purchase by making exorbitant demands. It is therefore more than likely that the coming encampments will be by brigades. The places most in favor are Erie, Mt. Gretna and Perkasie.

Personal Mention

Ralph S. Koser, formerly Second Lieutenant of Company "G," Twelfth Regiment, now a resident of Reading, has been elected First Lieutenant of Company "I," Fourth Regiment.

Capt. Nelson E. Bigelow, Company "E," 13th Infantry, recently married the daughter of his first Lieut., William L. Dodge of Honesdale, Penna.

Lieut. Colonel and Assistant Commissary General Horace L. Haldeman recently appointed on the staff of the commander-in-chief, while one of the junior staff officers of the State is a military man of many years experience, being a veteran commissioned officer of the Civil War. Colonel Haldeman was born Sept. 10, 1849, at Locust Grove, Lancaster Co., Penna., and was commissioned 1st Lieut. of the 20th Pennsylvania Cavalry, July 28, 1863, being then less than fifteen years of age, and it is officially stated that he was one of the few in the Union Army who held a commission at that age. He was recommissioned Jan. 15, 1864, with the same rank and made Captain March 1, 1865, and was honorably mustered out with his command on June 30, 1865. During the service he was appointed Acting Assistant Adjutant General, Post of Philadelphia, January 7, 1864, under Major General Geo. Cadwalader, Major General N. J. S. Dana and Brigadier General O. S. Terry, Assistant Commissary of Musters, Jan. 13, 1864, and Acting Assistant Adjutant General, Department of Pennsylvania June 22, 1865, an extraordinary and responsible position for a lad of seventeen years of age to hold. It will be seen by the above record our esteemed commander-in-chief wisely selected a person of experience for his military family. With Colonel Logan as Commissary General and Colonel Haldeman as Assistant, the Commissary Department of our State is sure to be looked after for the best interest of our service. In civil life Colonel Haldeman for many years has been a manufacturer of pig iron at Chickies, Lancaster Co. and is now treasurer of the PULASKI IRON CO. and VIRGINIA MINING CO. He is an active member of the Pennsylvania Commandery of the Loyal Legion and also Past Commander of the Post 226, Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R., stationed at Marietta, Penna., and was aide-de-camp on the staff of General Russell A. Alger, when the latter was Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

NOTES

Battery "B"

Captain Wm. T. Rees, of Hampton Battery "B," has appointed Second Lieutenant Clinton T. Bundy Inspector of Revolver Practice, vice J. Milton Ryall, elected to First Lieutenant.

The alterations of the Hunt Armory are nearing completion, and the members of Battery "B" expect to start active work by the 1st of February.

Anthony J. Leffler, of Pittsburg, has been appointed Stable and Veterinary Sergeant of Hampton Battery "B," vice Walter N. Douglass, of Carnegie, Pa., honorably discharged.

Second Regiment

The new gymnasium room was thrown open for the first time, February 23, to the members of the Regiment and their friends, and promises to be a very popular adjunct to the military life in the armory. Pool and billiard tables have been placed in the gymnasium, as well as shuffle boards, card tables, chess, and all kinds of athletic appliances. Indoor baseball has also been introduced and is very popular among the companies of the Regiment.

Fourth Regiment

Several prominent ladies of Lebanon contemplate organizing a ladies aid society in the interest of Company "H," Fourth Infantry.

The inspection of Captain Case's Company on February 18th was excellent and up to the usual standard of this fine organization. Colonel O'Neill and the inspecting officer, Major Clarke, with several others, were entertained after the inspection.

Twelfth Regiment

The companies of the Twelfth Infantry (Colonel Clement) are all doing very good work. The Sunbury companies in particular are making strong efforts to better their former records of general average at the spring inspections.

Thirteenth Regiment

Company I of the 13th Infantry (Capt. Clemens) will give a comic opera of Mikado at the Abel Opera House, Easton, Penna., on April 17-18. The proceeds of the same will go towards the expense fund of the company. It promises to be the social event of the season in this place. The troupe will be largely made up of the company's own membership.

Fourteenth Regiment

The companies of Colonel Thompson's Regiment are turning out very good, and it is stated that Major Jeffries, the inspecting officer, is particularly pleased so far with the results of his inspections.

The successful competitors in the examination held by the officers of Company "D," of the Fourteenth Infantry, to fill two vacancies in the rank of Corporal, were George L. Bassett and Harry B. Cunningham. Corporal Cunningham is one of the most soldierly men of the Fourteenth, having received his primary instruction in the Seventh U. S. Cavalry under Colonel Baldwin. Corporal Bassett is a brother of Lieutenant Charles A. Bassett, of Company "E," Fourteenth Infantry.

Eighteenth Regiment

First Lieutenant and Battalion Adjutant Joseph H. Simpson has resigned; no appointment has been made to fill vacancy.

First Lieutenant James L. Patterson, Company "A," has resigned; no election has been held to fill vacancy.

Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant F. H. Biggam has been elected Captain of Company "A," vice Menke, resigned.

Corporal J. M. Duff, Jr., of Company "F," has been appointed Battalion Sergeant-Major, vice Murphy, resigned.

First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Edward Stieven has resigned; no appointment made yet to fill vacancy.

First Sergeant F. L. Steele, of Company "C," has been appointed Regimental Quartermaster Sergeant, vice Biggam, elected Captain.

The Eighteenth Regiment Infantry will close the theatrical season at the Alvin the last week in May with a military drama, probably "Secret Service." The production will be in the hands of Mr. Brodock, and a committee of three from the Regiment, consisting of Captain Schoffer, Lieutenants Ralston and Hussey.

The 18th Reg. will move into their new quarters April 1st. The Clark property, corner of Forbes and Craft avenues, has been leased, and the large and commodious old mansion has been altered and arranged to accommodate the entire Regiment. The grounds are large and spacious enough to permit of regimental maneuvers, the only drawback being the absence of a drill hall. This has been provided for, however, as a commodious drill hall will be built.

The annual ball of the Eighteenth Infantry (Duquesne Greys), at the Schenley Hotel, Pittsburgh, on February 23d, was a grand affair. The assemblage comprised the representative people of that section and the costumes of the ladies were superb. Colonel Frank I. Rutledge and his brother officers who had the affair in charge deserve a great deal of credit. General John A. Wiley, who was the guest of honor, appeared in full dress uniform, and his presence greatly pleased the officers of the Regiment. General Wiley believes in encouraging everything that pertains to the good of his Brigade and the Guard in general. He stated that he had attended the first and hoped to be at all the future events of the Greys.

On March 1st only about one-half the companies of the Guard had made requisition for the new uniforms allowed them on account of riot service.

The question of six sergeants and six corporals constituting the non-commissioned portion of an infantry company is being seriously considered and the change will no doubt go into effect shortly.

Colonel William T. Lindsay, formerly Aide-de-Camp on the Staff of Governor Wm. A. Stone and the newly appointed Colonel, Homer J. Lindsay, have frequently been mistaken for one another. As an instance we give a reprint of a telegram of congratulation sent by Col. Ned Arden Flood, who is an old friend and Comrade-in-arms of Colonel William T., whom he supposed had been reappointed.

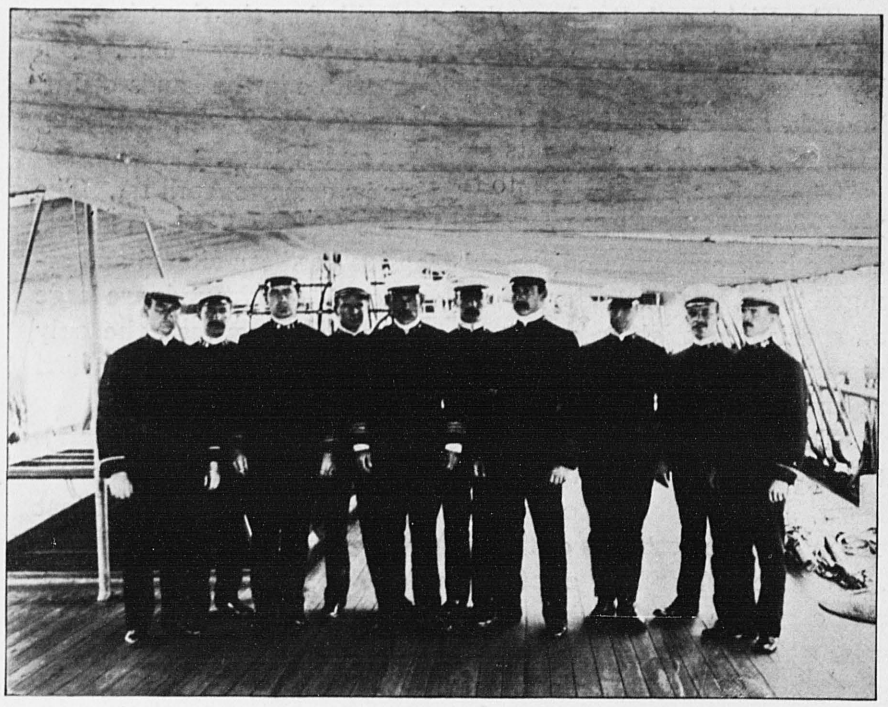
MEADVILLE, PA., February 19, 1903.

COL. WILLIAM T. LINDSAY,
U. S. Dist. Court, Pittsburg.

Distinguished gallantry in strenuous action, including quadrangular parallelograms, is not without reward, and I felicitate you most heartily upon your reappointment this morning.

NED ARDEN FLOOD.

The inspections in the Third Brigade during the month of February demonstrated that in spite of the long tour of riot service the companies are still holding their own. Ten companies were inspected, among them the Mahanoy City, Tamaqua, Pottsville, and St. Clair companies of the Eighth Regiment, all in the heart of the affected district. Counting as absent all men on furlough and all men not actually present on the floor for inspection there were but thirty-eight officers and enlisted men absent in the ten companies, an average absence of 3.8 men per company. The Mahanoy City company, which had to actually fight its way out of its armory when called into service, and fight its way back when relieved from duty, and whose officers and members are being boycotted in Mahanoy City, because of their membership in the National Guard and obedience to the call to support law and order, had present every member, three officers and fifty-six enlisted men. Company "H," of the Eighth, located at Pottsville, and Company "B," of the Fourth, located at Allentown, had but one absentee.



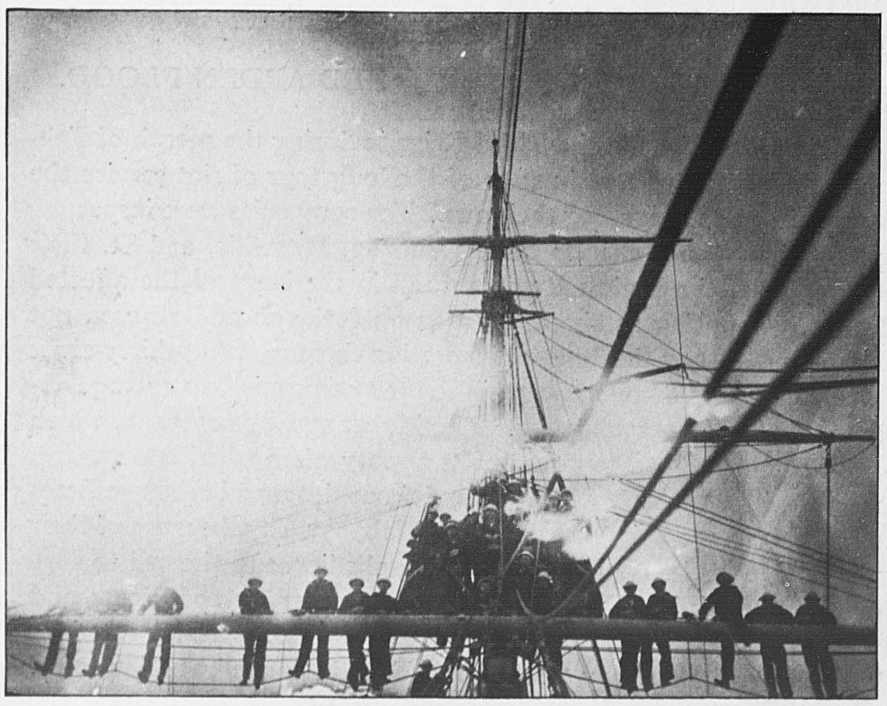
COMMISSIONED OFFICERS STATE NAVAL FORCE

NAVAL BAND GIVING CONCERT AFTER DRILL

OUR NAVAL FORCE

The Naval Militia having been barred for a long time from anything along active nautical lines except ice yachting, and not owning any ice yachts and having long ago forsworn forever city ice boats, have been devoting themselves to such things as could be accomplished on the housed overdeck of the old "St. Louis." Of these things the principal ones have been the regulation infantry and artillery drills and basket ball; and it may perhaps be said that basket ball has not met with any less enthusiasm than the others. The Battalion has two teams representing it, and the first team is at present at the head of its league, so that as this is their first year at the game they are rather proud of the team.

The engine-room men, who earlier in the year were given a course of lectures and practical instruction in engine-room work by Ensign Shaw, followed by a written examination, have since then been overhauling the machinery of the "Shearwater," to get it in thorough condition for the Spring and to become thoroughly familiar with everything connected with it. Now, however, this work is finished and as the Spring inspection is approaching the engine-room men are to be sent back to their Divisions for a course of 4s right; and will soon be worrying over such problems as how you are to tell whether your mounted "Friend" really does get off his horse after you have ordered him to dismount when in the clear glare of the electric light you see it is Colonel Sweeney and he hasn't got a horse at all. On March 7th, a platoon composed of two Hotchkiss sections, under command of Lieut. Horning, with Ensigns Wilson and Wanamaker, gave an exhibition artillery drill for "D" company of the First Infantry, at their Military and Athletic games on that evening. After that it will be all hands get ready for inspection and then clear weather again and boat work.



SAIL DRILL

INSTRUCTIONS IN HAMMOCK SEWING BY THE SHIP'S KEEPER

An election will be held for the captaincy of Battery "A," at Briggs' Riding School, Twenty-third and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, on Monday evening, March 23d. It is expected that Captain Barclay H. Warburton, whose commission expired some time ago, will be unanimously re-elected. The election will be conducted by Captain and Adjutant Robert W. King, Second Infantry. It is more than likely that this organization will be converted into a troop of cavalry in the near future.

The line officers of the Sixth Infantry assembled Saturday evening last at First Brigade Headquarters for the purpose of electing a junior Major. Major Allen, of the First Infantry, conducted the same, and after eight ineffectual ballots the election was postponed until Saturday evening, March 14th. It is most extraordinary that the leading candidates are both medical men, one being First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Malcolm T. Sime, and the other Battalion Adjutant Dr. W. Knowles Evans, each having received on different ballots fifteen votes. It is strongly hinted that the Philadelphia Battalion will spring a compromise candidate at the next election.

It is stated that Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Herbert A. Arnold, who has been connected with the Guard for many years and served as Major during the Spanish-American War, will be recommended to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Major Ward.

Geo. Evans & Co., Philadelphia, were recently awarded the contract to fully equip the two Battalions of the Harrisburg High School, Capt. Clement A. Swayne, commanding. The uniforms were particularly neat and well fitting and it is authoritatively stated that the Board of Managers are much pleased with the excellent work.

First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon Wm. Alexander Newman Dorland, who is prominently mentioned for Surgeon-Major of the New Cavalry Regiment, is one of Pennsylvania's enthusiastic guardsmen. He has been identified with the Second Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, since its organization, and has taken part in every tour of duty since 1898. His fitness as a military surgeon was practically demonstrated during the industrial disturbances, when he won the commendation of his superiors.

William Alexander Newman Dorland, M. D., was born December 26, 1864, at Hilton Head, South Carolina, where his father, Dr. William Mathews Dorland, was surgeon-in-charge of the Provost-Guard Hospital. His mother was Sarah Ann Thorne. Dr. Dorland is a lineal descendant of a Hollander, Lambert Janse Dorlandt, a New York Colonial Assemblyman in 1691-1692; of William Thorne, one of the eighteen founders of Flushing, Long Island; subsequently one of the proprietors of Jamaica, Long Island; of Judge Abraham Inskip, brother of Captain John Inskip of the Continental Army, subsequently Mayor of Philadelphia in 1804; of Stephen Koerts Van Vorhees, Justice of Flatlands in 1664, and the founder of the Vorhees family in America; of Jan Martensen Schenck, a Dutch settler in Flatlands in 1650; of Anna Winthrop, sister of Gov. John Winthrop of Massachusetts; and of Francis Dudley of Wolverhampton, England, who settled in New Jersey in 1681, and who was a grandson of Sir John Dudley, the ninth Baron Dudley. Mr. Dorland received his early education in private schools and in Prof. Fulton W. Hastings' West Philadelphia Academy. Taking the course in the Central High School of Philadelphia, he was graduated Bachelor of Arts from that school in 1891. In 1886 he was graduated from the Medical Dept. of the University of Pennsylvania, and during the following eighteen months was Resident Physician in the Philadelphia Hospital. He is at the present time Associate in Gynecology in the Philadelphia Polyclinic, Assistant Demonstrator of Obstetrics in the University of Pennsylvania, Assistant Obstetrician to the University Hospital, and Registrar of the Philadelphia Hospital. Since April, 1898, he has been the Surgeon of the Second Troop of Philadelphia City Cavalry. He is a member of the Philadelphia County Medical Society, of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Medicine, and the College of Physicians of Philadelphia; and belongs to the Medical Club, the Union League, and the University Club of Philadelphia. He is a member also of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Society of the Founders and Patriots of America, the New England Society, the Society of Colonial Wars of Pennsylvania, and the Alpha Mu Pi Omega Medical Fraternity. Dr. Dorland is the founder and a member of the Association of Resident and ex-Resident Physicians of the Philadelphia Hospital, and is the author of "Modern Obstetrics," "A Syllabus of Gynecological Lectures," and "The System of American Medical Dictionaries."

MAJOR ALFRED C. WOOD, Surgeon of the Third Infantry, the subject of our sketch, is one of the well-known medical officers in Philadelphia, and greatly attached to the National Guard service of the State. While on tours of duty he is constantly observing the welfare of the men, so that they have learned to regard him not only as their superior officer and medical chief, but as a mutual friend.

Alfred Conrad Wood, M. D., was born in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania. He was Resident Physician at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. Later he was for a time Surgeon to the Out-Patient Department of this Hospital, and he is now Assistant Surgeon to the Hospital. For several years Dr. Wood has been Instructor in Clinical Surgery at the University of Pennsylvania. He is Surgeon to the Philadelphia, St. Agnes's and St. Timothy's Hospitals, and was formerly Assistant Surgeon to the Gynecean Hospital. He is also a member of the University Club of Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Medical Club, the Faculty Club of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Delaware County Country Club.

Commissioned Major and Surgeon in the Medical Department of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, April 4, 1902, and assigned to duty with Third Regiment.
